

Cadillac
presents
the class of '73.

Fleetwood Brougham

Special even in the special world of Cadillac. The Brougham of 1973 is Cadillac in the grand manner—with luxury everywhere. In its spirited new styling. In its sheer spaciousness. In its total commitment to elegance and comfort. In the remarkable smoothness of its ride, due in no small measure to its individually longer wheelbase. In its exquisite appointments. In the dozens of niceties that tell you this is one of the most regal of sedans—like a Dual Comfort front seat and carpeted footrests. In the luxuries you may add—like steel-belted radial tires and, for a special touch of elegance, exterior opera lights. And you may select from 21 rich exterior colors (19 of them new for 1973)—any of seven colors for the padded vinyl roof. Small wonder so many owners leave a standing order for each year's new model of the Brougham. Shown is a Brougham in available Oceanic Teal Firemist with a White padded vinyl roof.

Every detail whispers luxury. The Dual Comfort front seat. The gorgeous new interiors—highlighted by Cadillac's new "soft-pillow" door panels. And accented further by an exciting new choice of upholsteries. There is new Magi, a lustrous matelasse in any of four colors. Soft and supple Sierra grain leathers are available in any of nine colors. Or you may order Medici, a crushed velour now available in Dark Blue (as shown), Maize and Taupe, as well as Beige. Added luxuries available include a deluxe trim package that includes deep-pile, two-toned shag carpeting, rubber-backed floor mats for the front and rear, and shirred elastic pockets on the back of the front seats.

The Eldorados

Here are our most elegant personal cars—Eldorado Coupe and Eldorado Convertible, only luxury convertible built in America. Even more glamorous and exciting for 1973. The grille—bolder, more massive. The more horizontal hood further accents the jewel-like standup crest. There's new hood striping. New rear deck design throughout. And new side design, highlighted by the return of the lighted wreath-and-crest circular rear side marker. Eldorado is unique. The only one with front-wheel drive, Automatic Level Control and an 8.2 litre engine. Variable-ratio power steering is also standard. The convertible even converts uniquely. With its inward-folding Hideaway Top. And you may order steel-belted radial tires and an electronic theft-deterrent system. Shown is the Eldorado Coupe in available Saturn Bronze Firemist with White accent stripes and a White padded vinyl roof.

Comfort matches elegance inside Eldorado. With a Dual Comfort front seat available in both coupe and convertible. With appliques with a carved wood effect in a Spanish filigree. With a wide choice of upholstery materials—including Manchester, a handsome houndstooth pattern fabric in Medium Beige, as shown, and six other colors. Leather upholstery (standard in convertible) is also available in twelve different color trim combinations. And then there is the Eldorado Custom Cabriolet, a very special personal car. Available with or without a sunroof, this limited-edition version of Eldorado features a backrest crowned with a rich, padded elk grain vinyl covering haloed by a sheer chrome strap.

The DeVille Series

Everything seems to point to the continued reign of the Sedan deVille and Coupe deVille as the most popular of them all—the luxury car models enjoyed by more motorists than any others. Start with the stunning new styling—the massive new grille, the majestic hood, the beautiful way Cadillac has incorporated its new front bumper system. Even the wheel discs are new, understated and elegant. A vinyl roof center seam makes it possible for you to order the wider sunroof panel for your DeVille. One thing that hasn't changed is that great Cadillac ride (except to make it even better with redesigned body mounts and the use of Teflon piston rings in shock absorbers for more consistent ride control). Luxuries you may add include a lighted vanity mirror, lamp monitors and a Dual Comfort front seat. Shown is the Sedan deVille in available St. Tropez Blue Firemist with a Dark Blue padded vinyl roof.

Added touches of luxury inside have their own story to tell of DeVille value and popularity. The "soft-pillow" door panels over a base of rosewood vinyl. New, larger pull straps anchored by escutcheons with a chrome scrollwork insert (see inset). A handsome new Cadillac clock with Roman numerals and set between raised scrolls. A fully illuminated windshield wiper control. And many more. A beautiful new multi-textured weave known as Medallion cloth is offered in Dark Blue, as shown, Dark Taupe, Dark Jade and Black. Also available is Mirabelle, a sophisticated fabric in Dark Teal, Medium Beige and Medium Maize. Or, if you prefer, you may order leather in any of twelve trim combinations.

The Calais Series

The Calais Sedan and Calais Coupe represent an extraordinary investment, any way you look at it. The beautiful new styling tells you at a glance that this is a Cadillac. And the ride—all Cadillac and smoother than ever with Teflon piston rings in shock absorbers. There's the big Cadillac engine, the long wheelbase and the dozens of other standard Cadillac features that tell you these are true luxury cars. Features like power windows. Variable-ratio power steering that automatically adjusts to the kind of driving you're doing. Turbo Hydra-matic transmission. Power disc front brakes. And there's Cadillac dedication to quality and all that means in lasting value and high resale. And, of course, you can individualize your Calais with such additional luxuries as lamp monitors, steel-belted radial tires, Automatic Climate Control and an electronic theft-deterrent system, to name a few. Shown is a Calais Coupe in Laredo Tan.

Everything inside a Calais tells you this is a Cadillac. From the "soft-pillow" door panels to the artfully curved instrument panel to the little niceties you expect in a Cadillac. Niceties like an electric clock, a front center armrest, cornering lights, assist straps and a remote-control left-side mirror—all standard. And the luxury shows in the choice of upholstery fabrics. There's Mayfair Cloth in any of six colors with matching vinyl bolsters. And, there's expanded vinyl upholstery available in either Black or Antique Saddle, as shown here.

Fleetwood Seventy-Fives

Our ultimate—the Fleetwood Seventy-Five nine-passenger Sedan and the Seventy-Five Limousine, only American-built model specifically designed as a limousine. In prestige. No other cars are so luxuriously appointed—none more respected at business and social occasions. In comfort. Interiors are spacious, sumptuous and private (with a glass partition for the chauffeur in the limousine). The ride: incredibly smooth. Automatic Level Control is standard as well as two Automatic Climate Control systems—one for the driver and another for passengers. In luxury. With full-width folding seats for three additional passengers; remote-control mirrors for both left and right sides; and a passenger's control panel that responds to a touch to raise or lower windows, turn on reading lights, activate Automatic Climate Control and, in the limousine, raise or lower the glass partition for the chauffeur. Shown is the Fleetwood Seventy-Five Limousine in Sable Black with a Black padded vinyl roof.

An understated elegance pervades the Seventy-Five interiors, as shown by handsome new Potomac, a grey cord fabric to compliment the taste of the more conservative owner. Available also is Medici in Beige. Or there is Magi, a lustrous matelasse in either Black or Dark Blue with matching leather bolsters.

A source of special delight is how many meaningful items are standard equipment on a Cadillac.
