An aerial, top-down view of a bright blue car, likely a Honda Insight, positioned in the center of a large, circular frame. The car is surrounded by a diverse crowd of people walking on a dark, paved surface. Long, dark shadows are cast by both the car and the people, suggesting a low sun position. The overall scene conveys a sense of being in the middle of a busy, everyday environment.

With room for 5, it's for people who like to share the fun.
